Contents

Editorials

1 Bodies politic: somatic politics and ‘meaning making’ in medicine and literature

M Healy

3 Performing medicine: the role of theatre in medical education

M Kohn

Original articles

5 The hallucinations of Frédéric Chopin

M Vázquez Caruncho, F Brañas Fernández

9 Black, white or green: ‘race’, gender and avatars within the therapeutic space

M A Graber, A D Graber

13 Royal ruptures: Caroline of Ansbach and the politics of illness in the 1730s

E D Jones

18 Telling the Patient’s Story: using theatre training to improve case presentation skills

R R Hammer, J D Rian, J K Gregory, J M Bestwick, C Barrett Birk, L Chalfant, P D Scanlon, D K Hall-Flavin

18 Art in wartime: The First Wounded, London Hospital, August 1914

M P Park, R H R Park

27 Sing, Muse: songs in Homer and in hospital

R Marshall, A Bleakley

34 To feel what others feel: two episodes from 18th century medicine

S Justman

38 Literature and disability: the medical interface in Borges and Beckett

P Novillo-Corvalán

46 Robert Knox and the anatomy of beauty

A Neher

Brief report

51 The return from mania: a patient’s journey

J Hayes

Student original article

53 Moral erosion: how can medical professionals safeguard against the slippery slope?

J Liebowitz

Educational case study

58 Teaching reflective competence in medical education using paintings

K Karkabi, O Cohen Castel

PostScript

61 Book reviews

64 Film reviews

Miscellanea

8 Twist of faith

S A Weinstein

26 Hot Flash

C T Fogarty

37 What I wanted to hear

M J Green

44 Eppur si muove

D S Barron

45 Infinite ability

S Singh

52 Abraham (with apologies to Percy Bysshe Shelley—a homage to his poem Ozymandias)

I Scott

56 4 years wept

M D Perlff

57 Stethoscope

A K Merritt

59 Insane redemption

A Cherian