

Author index

Arnesen TM, Norheim OF Quantifying quality of life for economic analysis: time out for time trade off, 81

Bein S see Meites E et al

Bermond F see Piccoli GB et al

Biley FC, Champney-Smith J "Attempting to say something without saying it ...": writing haiku in health care education, 39

Bolton G et al. Opening the word hoard, 97

Burdese M see Piccoli GB et al

Champney-Smith J see Biley FC and Champney-Smith J

Curth LH Lessons from the past: preventive medicine in early modern England, 16

Downie RS Medical humanities: a vision and some cautionary notes, 37

Evans HM, Greaves DA Looking for emerging themes in medical humanities—some invitations to our readers, 1

Evans HM see Greaves DA and Evans HM

Evans RG Patient centred medicine: reason, emotion, and human spirit? Some philosophical reflections on being with patients, 8

Gibbons N see Bolton G et al

Grant A see Lewis W and Grant A

Grassi G see Piccoli GB et al

Greaves DA, Evans HM Coming of age? Association for Medical Humanities holds first annual conference, 57

Greaves DA see Evans HM and Greaves DA

Jay A see Bolton G et al

Jeanet A see Piccoli GB et al

Khorana AA Relativity, 46

Kirklin D, Meakin R Editorial: Medical students and arts and humanities research—fostering creativity, inquisitiveness, and lateral thinking, 103

Kyeremateng S see Bolton G et al

Leiman M see Puustinen R et al

Lewis W, Grant A "The dark side of the spectrum ..." a "day of suffering" for medical students, 43

Louhiala P Philosophy for medical students—why, what, and how, 87

Lyth H see Bolton G et al

McCarthy J Principlism or narrative ethics: must we choose between them?, 65

Meakin R Editorial: a library of "non-medical" books for medical students: a foot in the door or an obstacle to progress?, 53

Meakin R see Kirklin D and Meakin R

Meites E et al. Researching medicine in context: the Arts and Humanities Medical Scholars Program, 104

Mezza E see Piccoli GB et al

Morrell P Triumph of the light—isopathy and the rise of transcendental homeopathy, 1830–1920, 22

Norheim OF see Arnesen TM and Norheim OF

Pattison S Medical Humanities: a vision and some cautionary notes, 33

Piccoli GB et al. What do Italian medical students read? A call for a library of good books on physicians for physicians, 54

Pole JG see Bolton G et al

Puustinen R et al. Medicine and the humanities—theoretical and methodological issues, 77

Rowe M Mortality and medicine: forms of silence and of speech, 72

Schwartz L Parallel experience: how art and art theory can inform ethics in human research, 59

Segoloni GP see Piccoli GB et al

Shafer A see Meites E et al

Soragna G see Piccoli GB et al

Turner BS see Wainwright SP and Turner BS

van Praag HM Itinerary: Concerning the professional and spiritual objectives of my life, 89

Viljanen AM see Puustinen R et al

Wainwright SP, Turner BS Reflections on embodiment and vulnerability, 4

Subject index

activity theory, Medicine and the humanities—theoretical and methodological issues, 77

allopathy, Triumph of the light—isopathy and the rise of transcendental homeopathy, 1830–1920, 22

art, "Attempting to say something without saying it ...": writing haiku in health care education, 39

Parallel experience: how art and art theory can inform ethics in human research, 59

arts and humanities, Researching medicine in context: the Arts and Humanities Medical Scholars Program, 104

art theory, Parallel experience: how art and art theory can inform ethics in human research, 59 association for medical humanities, Coming of age? Association for Medical Humanities holds first annual conference, 57

bereavement, Mortality and medicine: forms of silence and of speech, 72

body, Reflections on embodiment and vulnerability, 4

cancer, Relativity, 46

collaboration, Parallel experience: how art and art theory can inform ethics in human research, 59 communication skills, Patient centred medicine: reason, emotion, and human spirit? Some philosophical reflections on being with patients, 8

complementary medicine, Lessons from the past: preventive medicine in early modern England, 16

cost effectiveness analysis, Quantifying quality of life for economic analysis: time out for time trade off, 81

DALY, Quantifying quality of life for economic analysis: time out for time trade off, 81

Death, Mortality and medicine: forms of silence and of speech, 72

discipline, Medical Humanities: a vision and some cautionary notes, 33

dying, Mortality and medicine: forms of silence and of speech, 72

early modern medicine, Lessons from the past: preventive medicine in early modern England, 16

emergent themes, Looking for emerging themes in medical humanities—some invitations to our readers, 1 emotion, Patient centred medicine: reason, emotion, and human spirit? Some philosophical reflections on being with patients, 8

end of life decisions, Relativity, 46

essentialism, Triumph of the light—isopathy and the rise of transcendental homeopathy, 1830–1920, 22

ethical decision making, Principlism or narrative ethics: must we choose between them?, 65

ethics, Parallel experience: how art and art theory can inform ethics in human research, 59

- ethnography, Reflections on embodiment and vulnerability, 4
- Galenic medicine, Lessons from the past: preventive medicine in early modern England, 16
- haiku, "Attempting to say something without saying it ...": writing haiku in health care education, 39
- health care education, "Attempting to say something without saying it ...": writing haiku in health care education, 39
- health care ethics movement, Medical Humanities: a vision and some cautionary notes, 33
- health care evaluation, "Attempting to say something without saying it ...": writing haiku in health care education, 39
- health regimen, Lessons from the past: preventive medicine in early modern England, 16
- history of medicine, Researching medicine in context: the Arts and Humanities Medical Scholars Program, 104
- humanities, "Attempting to say something without saying it ...": writing haiku in health care education, 39
What do Italian medical students read? A call for a library of good books on physicians for physicians, 54
- human subjects, Parallel experience: how art and art theory can inform ethics in human research, 59
- identity, Medical Humanities: a vision and some cautionary notes, 33
- inaugural conference, Coming of age? Association for Medical Humanities holds first annual conference, 57
- interdisciplinary activity, Medical Humanities: a vision and some cautionary notes, 33
- isopathy, Triumph of the light—isopathy and the rise of transcendental homeopathy, 1830–1920, 22
- Judaism, Itinerary: Concerning the professional and spiritual objectives of my life, 89
- medical education, Editorial: a library of "non-medical" books for medical students: a foot in the door or an obstacle to progress?, 53
Editorial: Medical students and arts and humanities research—fostering creativity, inquisitiveness, and lateral thinking, 103
Looking for emerging themes in medical humanities—some invitations to our readers, 1
Medical humanities: a vision and some cautionary notes, 37
Philosophy for medical students—why, what, and how, 87
Researching medicine in context: the Arts and Humanities Medical Scholars Program, 104
"The dark side of the spectrum ..." a "day of suffering" for medical students, 43
What do Italian medical students read? A call for a library of good books on physicians for physicians, 54
- medical ethics, Medical humanities: a vision and some cautionary notes, 37
Principlism or narrative ethics: must we choose between them?, 65
- medical humanities, Coming of age? Association for Medical Humanities holds first annual conference, 57
Editorial: a library of "non-medical" books for medical students: a foot in the door or an obstacle to progress?, 53
Editorial: Medical students and arts and humanities research—fostering creativity, inquisitiveness, and lateral thinking, 103
Looking for emerging themes in medical humanities—some invitations to our readers, 1
Medical Humanities: a vision and some cautionary notes, 33
Medical humanities: a vision and some cautionary notes, 37
Principlism or narrative ethics: must we choose between them?, 65
Relativity, 46
Researching medicine in context: the Arts and Humanities Medical Scholars Program, 104
What do Italian medical students read? A call for a library of good books on physicians for physicians, 54
- medical school, What do Italian medical students read? A call for a library of good books on physicians for physicians, 54
- medical student research, Editorial: Medical students and arts and humanities research—fostering creativity, inquisitiveness, and lateral thinking, 103
Researching medicine in context: the Arts and Humanities Medical Scholars Program, 104
- medicine and literature, "The dark side of the spectrum ..." a "day of suffering" for medical students, 43
- medicine and the humanities, Medicine and the humanities—theoretical and methodological issues, 77
- medicine, Philosophy for medical students—why, what, and how, 87
- miasms, Triumph of the light—isopathy and the rise of transcendental homeopathy, 1830–1920, 22
- Michaels A. Fugitive Pieces, book reviews, 21
- Morley D, editor. The Gift: New Writing for the NHS, book reviews, 15
- narrative ethics, Principlism or narrative ethics: must we choose between them?, 65
- narratives, Reflections on embodiment and vulnerability, 4
- non-medical books, What do Italian medical students read? A call for a library of good books on physicians for physicians, 54
- non-naturals, Lessons from the past: preventive medicine in early modern England, 16
- nosode, Triumph of the light—isopathy and the rise of transcendental homeopathy, 1830–1920, 22
- patient centred medicine, Patient centred medicine: reason, emotion, and human spirit? Some philosophical reflections on being with patients, 8
- patient physician relationship, What do Italian medical students read? A call for a library of good books on physicians for physicians, 54
- philosophy of medicine, Medicine and the humanities—theoretical and methodological issues, 77
"The dark side of the spectrum ..." a "day of suffering" for medical students, 43
- philosophy, Patient centred medicine: reason, emotion, and human spirit? Some philosophical reflections on being with patients, 8
Philosophy for medical students—why, what, and how, 87
Reflections on embodiment and vulnerability, 4
- poetry, "Attempting to say something without saying it ...": writing haiku in health care education, 39
Researching medicine in context: the Arts and Humanities Medical Scholars Program, 104
- politics, Medical Humanities: a vision and some cautionary notes, 33
- potentiation, Triumph of the light—isopathy and the rise of transcendental homeopathy, 1830–1920, 22
- preventive medicine, Lessons from the past: preventive medicine in early modern England, 16
- principlism, Principlism or narrative ethics: must we choose between them?, 65
- priority setting, Quantifying quality of life for economic analysis: time out for time trade off, 81
- professional life, Itinerary: Concerning the professional and spiritual objectives of my life, 89
- psychiatry, Itinerary: Concerning the professional and spiritual objectives of my life, 89
- QALY, Quantifying quality of life for economic analysis: time out for time trade off, 81
- quality of life, Quantifying quality of life for economic analysis: time out for time trade off, 81
- rationality, Patient centred medicine: reason, emotion, and human spirit? Some philosophical reflections on being with patients, 8
- research, Looking for emerging themes in medical humanities—some invitations to our readers, 1
Parallel experience: how art and art theory can inform ethics in human research, 59
- silence and death, Mortality and medicine: forms of silence and of speech, 72
- social theory, Reflections on embodiment and vulnerability, 4
- spirit, Patient centred medicine: reason, emotion, and human spirit? Some philosophical reflections on being with patients, 8
- Spiritual life, Itinerary: Concerning the professional and spiritual objectives of my life, 89
- suffering, "The dark side of the spectrum ..." a "day of suffering" for medical students, 43
- time trade off, Quantifying quality of life for economic analysis: time out for time trade off, 81
- utility, Quantifying quality of life for economic analysis: time out for time trade off, 81
- Vygotsky L, Medicine and the humanities—theoretical and methodological issues, 77